Description

If ever a man exemplified the concept of a pissant Lieutenant, LT Werner is that man. Always "in the rear with the gear", Werner leaves true command to the sergeants and corporals that he directs from the safety of the APC. He is jumpy, detached, and does his best to keep himself above the grunt troops. Werner isn't stupid, though, and is well-trained. He merely wishes to get this assignment over with so he can continue up the chain of command so as to reach his real goal of upper echelon ranks. Werner is hated by most of his squad, but he doesn't care. He does his best to lead them effectively, though.

Description

CPL Long is a quiet, almost sullen individual. Laconic is a word often used to describe him, at least by those that know what laconic means. He is known for an occasional burst of insight or interaction, but otherwise keeps to himself. As a combat medic, he is near peerless. He is fearless in the face of fire and would do anything to aid a fallen comrade. Long has even be known to put his own life at risk for civilians or even members of opposition factions. His devotion to the cause of aiding others in suffering has garnered him a lot of respect and free drinks.

Description

PVT Kilpatrick is a fresh recruit out of Basic. Her not so imaginative nickname, however, does belie the fact that she is more than just a pretty face with red hair. Sharp minded with a quick (some would say "Irish") temper "Red" is a force to be reckoned with. Her young age has her being babied by many members of Bravo, much to her chagrin. But her bravado and razor tongue is doing much to buck their coddling. "Red" is close to PVT Rutheford as both were in Basic together. STSGT Gopal seems to have taken Kilpatrick under her wing as well. She seems to get along well with PFCs Washburn and Jimenez.

Description

Personality
 PVT Rutheford, "Twinkie" to his squadmates, is a study of opposites. Barely able to muster past the rigorous physicals that all Colonial Marines must endure, this somewhat effete man still garners a lot of respect in the very machismo focused corps. Whether this is due to his phenomenal electronic and computer skills, his intellect, his friendship with "Red", or his unnerving stare is not completely clear. What is clear that Rutheford is definitely one of "the guys" regardless of what his stature might imply. He is close the PVT Kilpatrick, having served in Basic with her. He has had a few run-ins with PFC Jimenez, however, few of them completely pleasant.

Description

LCPL Zenati is no stranger to conflict. Before joining up with the USCM, he served in an anti-terrorism force on Earth. Zenati is deeply religious, but abhors violence against innocents. He was transferred to the USCM after a bungled attempt to neutralize a terrorist cell lead to the destruction of a Mosque. Zenati is deeply remorseful for that incident, even though he had little fault in the actual events that transpired. He is a quiet and soft-spoken man who does little to draw attention to himself, but he is very disciplined and dependable. FSGT Rodgers has a lot of respect for Zenati and often relies on him for support, more so than STSGT Gopal.

Description

Personality

STSGT Gopal probably has the most combat experience of any of the members of Bravo. She served with distinction in two previous tours of duty, the first of which saw her at the battle of Baghdad Falls on MV-091 (one of the largest battles in the last 50 years). She's hardened from these experiences, but not cold. Her service has given her a lot of practical experience as a combat medic. She is a bit gruff, especially to green recruits, but this exterior covers up the fact that she really does worry about those around her. She has taken PFC Kilpatrick as a personal project, but also keeps a close watch on Rutheford.

Description

PFC Jimenez is one of Bravo's "problem children". A quick temper and loose adherence to military protocol leaves PFC Jimenez often at odds with COs, XO's, and MPs on a regular basis. He is an A-grade certified APC pilot, though, even if his methods of extraction are often "unorthodox". Jimenez spends a lot of his time with PVT Washburn and they are both well known by peace officers in many ports of call around the galaxy. Jimenez has taken a dislike to PFC Rutherford, but knows that STSGT Gopal is keeping an eye on him, so does his best to torment the green recruit far from her.

Description

CPL Hill is a new member to Bravo, but not to the corps. He was passed over for Reconnaissance training due to his somewhat "twitchy" nature. He served in a previous tour of duty and garnered a reputation of being a bit unreliable under fire. He has been assigned to Bravo after CPL Hessman was lost in a colonial uprising. He has some large shoes to fill and has thus far failed. Hill is trying to ingratiate himself to PFC Foley to gain some better knowledge that might help him pass the entrance exam to Recon school. He dislikes STSGT Gopal as he feels she is unfairly "riding his ass".

Personality
PFC Washburn is known as "Ballsack" due to an unfortunate turn of events during Basic. He is far and away the most reckless member of Bravo. He is even-tempered, unlike his oft partner in crime PFC Jimenez, but he more than makes up for his slower fuse in raw aggression once unleashed. Washburn has quite an attitude problem that manifests as a disdain for most people as being "beneath him" in some way. He doesn't get along with anyone in Bravo save for Jimenez. As a soldier, he is dependable if uninspiring. The only problem is that he tends to rush into situations rather than wait for proper protocols.
